ASKS STOUGHTON FOR FRANCHISE

CINCINNATI CONSTRUCTION CO. FILES APPLICATION.

FAVORABLE ACTION LIKELY

Traction Concern Desires to Enter the City at the Southeast Corner.

At Stoughton yesterday the Cincinnati Construction Co., of which H. H. Ziegler of Columbus, Ohio, is president, filed application for an electric railway franchise for the Stoughton section of the road which is to connect Janesville and Madison. While no definite route is stipulated, Fourth and Main streets being the only thoroughfares mentioned, the company asks for a permit to enter the city near the southeast corner, traversing intervening lands to enter Fourth street over D. D. Camp's property. Thence it is to go north on Fourth street to Main, thence westerly across the river. The franchise confers the usual provisions and safeguards and it is expected that the common council will pass it without any unnecessary delay. "Stoughton wants the interurban and wants it badly," says the Stoughton Tribune, "and it wants it to traverse our principal business thoroughfare."

UP-TO-DATE FASHIONS

In the cause of humanity it was to be hoped that hats would be smaller, but a glance at millinery show window dispels that illusion. It must be taken into consideration, however, that exaggerated styles are always the first to be displayed in order to attract attention which doubtless has its commercial value. Small and medium-sized hats will be worn also, as extremes are only endurable on young persons. A new toque is called the "Pill Box" toque—an appropriate title, as it is perfectly round and of the same size at both edges.

Leading Hat Materials.
These are longhair, velvet, satin, crepe-de-chine, all of which are used in combination with flowers, plumage or ostrich feathers. Braiding is a special feature this season, appearing on tulle silk or velvet hat.

An immense shape of yellow bengaline has a three-quarter wreath of large white water-lilies and leaves in natural size. A mass of yellow satin laid in graceful puddings completes the trimming around the crown. Another yellow hat has a folded draping of black satin around the crown, embroidered and braided in gift with a yellow and white bird of Paradise egret on one side (which would have sufficed in an ordinary season for half a dozen hats) set in a fluffing of black chiffon held by two huge gilt buttons. Thus it will be seen that fall and winter millinery is generous in its proportions.

Fall and Winter Dress Materials.
Broadcloth is again the leading fabric, and as usual Lord & Taylor are distancing all competitors by the beauty and variety of their display, including the standard colors, the pastel shades, and several new tints, among which are winter and autumn.

Chiffon broadcloth is well adapted to the Directoire skirt, as a strong and at the same time a clinging material is necessary to stand the strain of such a tight-fitting affair.
Checked and striped broadcloth will be liberally patronized for tailor suits, but genuine elegance belongs to plain broadcloth.

Cheviots.
These are in strong demand for runabout suits, and this season many novelties in diagonal, chevrons, or broken stripes are presented. The blending of two delicate shades of blue and brown, or green and brown render these styles particularly attractive. Bordered cheviots are sometimes topped by Astrakhan bands, and it may be said that everything in the cheviot line is cordially welcomed.

Velvets are in high repute, and velvet coats will be "just the thing" with Directoire skirts. In general favor, satin is somewhat of a rival of velvet, and all high-grade silks have a satin finish.

The Directoire Skirt.
The genuine Directoire skirt begins at the bust line, is carefully adjusted, to the figure, as closely fitting as possible around the hips, has but two seams, either one at each side or one at the center of the back and the other at the side, and falls down to the feet in graceful fullness around the foot. When a seam at each side is used buttons are put on the seams. When the skirt opens diagonally at the side, there is always an under-skirt effect, and the edge is finished by fringe, which is a favorite trimming with stylish dressmakers. The lower edge of the skirt is entirely devoid of trimming. The economy of space is so important that the petticoat is made of the softest possible fabric and quite short, but always ruffled.

A Black Hat.
The largest hat yet shown is a Directoire of black bengaline, the brim faced with velvet and turning back a little at one side. Fair, very large crowns; or on the front of bonnets, or interposed and spangled, it forms a novel garniture for an ordinary toque, many of which will be seen at a later date. A handsome mahogany-brown velvet hat, of a large oval shape, is faced with crepe-de-chine of a lighter shade which is also draped around the crown. An open wreath of brown velvet leaves of varied sizes and shades that glisten like satin, is placed over the crepe de chine and here and there a tiny white and green rose bud peeps out from among the leaves. Five large brown roses in several tints, with a leaf cluster, give the high effect at the side-front.

YOUTHFUL THESPIANS PRESENTED A PLAY
Wherein True Love Runs Counter to Egyptian Scarab, at Bailey's Barn This Afternoon.

In "A Treasure From Egypt" which was given its premier performance by a company of youthful thespians in the left of P. J. Bailey's barn at 14 Clark street this afternoon, and which is to be repeated there this evening and at the Oliver Lincoln theatre at 162 Milton avenue tomorrow afternoon and evening, the course of true love is badly pulled from time to time by a sacred bug. "Dr. Fossil O'holmes" in the course of his researches along the Nile, had discovered a precious scarab and "Prof. Dryadust" covets the treasure and is willing to give his charming daughter, "Maude," in marriage to O'holmes in order to gain possession of it.

"Maude," of course, has other plans and the gallant "Tom Edwards," aided by the ingenious "Mike O'holmes," resorts to strategy and subterfuge in order to outwit the relentless families and enable the dispossessed lady to realize her heart's desire. The play is by H. Ward Bass, it is presented in two acts, with a specially arranged by Harold Mohr during the intermission. Joe Oliver is prompter and the cast is as follows:
Prof. Dryadust.....Chester Clark
Dr. Fossil O'holmes.....Henry Brown
Mike O'holmes.....Leslie Bailey
Tom Edwards.....Harold Mohr
Maude Dryadust.....Ruth Souham

CLARENCE BRANDT PLEADED GUILTY
To the Charge of Heating a Horse and Paid a Fine and Costs Amounting to $5.10.

It cost Clarence Brandt $5.10 to mock members of the Humane Society when they remonstrated with him for whipping a balky horse last week. Investigations made by Officer Dulin the next day showed that there were no marks on the animal and that the whip used was a primitive contrivance which could have inflicted every severe punishment, anyway. It appeared, moreover, that the stubborn brute not only refused to move an inch on a down grade but prevented the other steed from moving the load of gravel. This was exasperating and the nag may have deserved all it got in the way of a beating. If the driver had availed himself of the soft answer method or reasonable arguments in dealing with the interference, even if it was without sufficient justification, the complaint against him might not have been filed. In order to avoid the larger expense of retaining an attorney and defending the case, Brandt this morning pleaded his plea to "guilty." Judge Field levied a fine of $2 and costs, amounting in all to $5.10.

HARMONY IN OHIO

Taft and Foraker Meet with Warmest Cordiality.

ALL DIFFERENCES FORGOTTEN

Senator Promises to Take the Stump
Dramatic Political Event Takes Place at G. A. R. Parade and Republican Rally in Toledo.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—The greatest political sensation of the campaign occurred Wednesday when W. H. Taft and Senator Foraker met here and declared that they were standing shoulder to shoulder in the presidential contest.

Senator Foraker is an avowed candidate for the United States senate to succeed himself, and his services in the national campaign have been sought by National Chairman Hitchcock and the senator has promised to take the stump.

Fixed Up at a Dinner.

At a dinner given here Tuesday night by Charles T. Lewis, who is incidentally the host of Judge Taft at the Middle Mass club, being president of that organization, there were present Senator Foraker, Gen. Henry C. Corbin, Representative J. Warren Ketterer of Ohio, and James Lloyd, an attorney of Cleveland. This dinner resulted in an invitation to Senator Foraker to remain in this city Wednesday and attend both the review of the parade of the G. A. R., in the stand with Judge Taft, and also the reception to be given later by the Lincoln Republican club.

Those who attended this dinner are authority for the further statement that when Senator Foraker left the dinner he was called on the long distance telephone from Chicago by Chairman Hitchcock of the national committee and requested to open the Republican campaign in Kansas. Senator Foraker has not yet given his answer to this invitation, but it is stated, told the national chairman that he would take part in the speaking program for the contest.

Meet on Reviewing Stand.

Judge Taft left Middle Mass island at half after six o'clock Wednesday morning on a small power yacht, and after a tempestuous voyage of four hours reached Toledo, very damp from the spray, but otherwise unimpaired. He was taken in an automobile direct to the reviewing stand. Judge Taft said on the journey that he did not know of arrangement whereby he was to meet Senator Foraker, nor did he know of any endeavor to effect such an arrangement. But the city of Toledo seemed to know all about it, and when, after the candidate had been in his place only a few minutes, a carriage, which headed the parade, stopped in front of the stand and discharged its passengers, there was a tremendous shout as the thousands who were within sight of the stand caught sight of the senior senator, and his colleague, Senator Dick, Gov. Harris and Mayor Whitlock.

Senator Foraker was the last of the little party to reach Judge Taft's side, but when he did and each raised his right hand, Taft saying, "Hello senator," and Foraker, "I am glad to see you, Judge," and then shook hands, long and heartily and smiled cordially, there was a mighty shout from the crowd, and then applause and cheers. The two sat down together and remained in earnest conversation for more than an hour.

Together Again at Theater.

Before Judge Taft was allowed to depart on an automobile ride, which had been arranged for him, he consented to shake hands for 20 minutes with an enthusiastic throng. The ride ended at the Lyceum theater at four o'clock, where, when Mr. Taft had been cheered for a few minutes by an audience which filled the large playhouse, Senator Foraker made his appearance. He was also most enthusiastically greeted as he took a seat beside the candidate, after the latter had risen and greeted him with a hand shake.

President Mulholland of the club introduced Mr. Taft as "the world's big man."

"It is a pleasure for me to be here with Senator Foraker," said Mr. Taft, "because when governor of Ohio he gave me really my first chance and took a good deal of risk in putting a man of 29 on the bench of the superior court of Cincinnati. We are about to enter, or rather have entered, a great oratorical campaign. It is a pleasure to think in this presence that we are going to stand in the campaign shoulder to shoulder, with the full strength of the Republican party."

When Senator Foraker arose, he declared there had never been the slightest ill feeling between him and Mr. Taft, and asserted that the experience of Mr. Taft qualified him, beyond almost every other man, for the presidency.

FLAMES THREATEN TO DESTROY GIANT TREES

Rangers and Settlers Working Hard to Save the Famous Calaveras Group of Sequoias.

Sonoma, Cal., Sept. 3.—Fire is threatening the destruction of the Calaveras group of giant sequoias, one of the natural wonders of the world. The conflagration started Monday from sparks from a logging engine and soon spread to a heavily wooded district just west of the north grove of big trees.

All the forest rangers in the district were quickly gathered and they, together with the settlers, many visitors living in camps around and in the grove and the employees of the Big Tree hotel, have fought the flames ever since. They have thus far saved the hotel, but have been unable to prevent the fire gaining headway in a direction that menaced the giant sequoias.

It is hoped and believed by the settlers and rangers that the fire will not readily take hold of the living trees. The dead giants, however, will probably be destroyed. Already "The Mother of the Forest," a great dead trunk at the edge of the grove, is aflame and like a great glowing torch is threatening its living neighbors. "The Mother" lies 227 feet long with a trunk 78 feet in circumference, and it will take days and perhaps weeks for the flames to consume its body.

The destruction of the big grove would be little short of a calamity. The only living specimens of the sequoia gigantea, or big trees, are those found in California, and there are but four groups of these. Of these the Calaveras grove is probably the most remarkable.

TWO WOMEN SHOT IN RIOT.

Wives of Miners at Dunmore, Pa., Are Accidentally Wounded.

Beranton, Pa., Sept. 3.—In a strike, riot at Dunmore Wednesday evening, Mrs. Adam Kavalko and Mrs. Anna Cordlach, wives of miners, were shot while standing on the back porch of the Kavalko home.

There is a strike on at the No. 1 colliery of the Erie company, and Superintendent Edward Gorwin and some nonunion miners were attacked, going to the mine Wednesday morning. General Superintendent W. W. English, Superintendent Gorwin and the state police, who had been summoned from the Lockville barracks, were escorting the nonunionists home in the evening when they were accosted by a crowd of the strikers in a field near the mine. Stones, it is alleged, were thrown at the nonunionists, whereupon the police charged the crowd. The strikers scattered and many of them ran to the rear of the row of miners' houses, where the two women were watching the excitement. Mrs. Kavalko held an infant in her arms. Shooting began and Mrs. Kavalko was struck in the thigh. Mrs. Cordlach, who stood beside her, was turning to run into the house, evidently, when a bullet struck her in the back. Her wound is serious. The police rode away after the shooting.

STOP DRINKING

Orrino Destroys Desire for Drink "How to Swear Off"

It was formerly customary for the habitual drinker to take the pledge regularly, sometimes once a year, and sometimes in every fit of remorse that followed his debauches, and then—drunk it.

But now it is gradually dawning on the world that pledges do not stop drunkenness. When a man takes a pledge voluntarily, he expects to keep it. Every man expects to keep his word, and every broken pledge costs the drunkard many a headache. But he cannot help it. He fights as long as he can, then succumbs to the craving. The nervous system of the habitual drinker is diseased and he must have treatment that will cure his condition.

Orrino is sold under a positive guarantee to cure the drink habit or the money will be refunded. No other treatment for the liquor habit is sold with such a liberal guarantee. Orrino is prepared in two forms: No. 1, a powder, perfectly tasteless and colorless, which can be given secretly in any food or drink. Orrino No. 2, is in pill form, for those who wish to be cured of the habit, and it should be taken by every one who swears off.

No matter which form of Orrino is used the guarantee is the same. The price of Orrino is $1.00 per box, mailed in plain sealed wrapper upon receipt of price. Write for free booklet on "How to Cure Drunkenness" (mailed in plain, sealed envelope) by The Orrino Co., Washington, D. C. Orrino is sold by People's Drug Company and King's Pharmacy.

BIG G. A. R. PARADE

Crowning Event of the Grand Army Encampment.

TWELVE THOUSAND IN LINE

Friendly Meeting Between Mr. Taft and Senator Foraker on Reviewing Stand Heartily Cheered by Old Soldiers and Spectators.

Toledo, O., Sept. 3.—The parade of the Grand Army of the Republic, the crowning event of the encampment in a spectacular way, took place Wednesday. It was a great success, and was made especially interesting by becoming the occasion of the dramatic meeting of William H. Taft and Senator Joseph H. Foraker in friendly accord. The Republican leader and his antagonist politically of the pre-convention canvass met in the official reviewing stand, shook hands, smiled and exchanged greetings, while from thousands of throats came cheer after cheer as the significance of the incident dawned upon the beholders.

Parade a Great Success.

The parade was remarkable for the absence of accidents and cases of exhaustion, and for the good order which prevailed, not only among the dense crowds along the line of march, but throughout the city. Mayor Whitlock stated that despite the crowd of 100,000 visitors there had been fewer accidents, fewer misdemeanors and less work for the police generally than on any average day of the year. Aside from a Veteran who was slightly bruised by being hit by an ambulance, there were no accidents, and not more than a dozen visited the hospital as the result of fatigue.

Estimates of the number of veterans in line varied from 8,000 to three times that number, but it is doubtful if there were more than 12,000. The various posts marched with half a block between them, and the departments were even further apart. There was a good ten feet separating each row of marchers and it was this liberality of space which made it require four hours to pass the reviewing stand. Fully half the veterans wore the badges of either Michigan or Ohio.

Some Amusing Features.

Some of the veterans, carried in experience of parades, carried camp stools over their arms, and whenever there was a halt they promptly sat down, to the envy of their comrades. The first amusing incident of the march came with the marching past of the Rhode Island detachment. Two veteran "tars," in sailor suits and each carrying a broom bearing the placard, "Who won the battles of '61 and '65? We did," danced along the way and were the targets of many flowers. The Rhode Island sharpshooters carried their name on a 12-foot cloth sustained by poles at each end and borne by two men. The wind being brisk, propelled the banners forward faster than they cared to go, and they were compelled to strain at the banner at every step to avoid being carried forward at a run.

COMET FOUND WITH CAMERA.

Discovery by Prof. Morehouse Announced at Yerkes Observatory.

Lake Geneva, Wis., Sept. 3.—Director Edwin H. Frost of the Yerkes observatory Wednesday night announced the discovery of a new comet through photographic observations made by Prof. D. W. Morehouse of Drake university of Des Moines. The presence of the comet was revealed upon development of three photographic plates exposed in three cameras. It is clearly defined and has a tail several degrees long and was found in the constellation Camelopardus, remaining above the horizon throughout the night.

Decision Hits Democrats.

Puerto Rico, Sept. 3.—The state supreme court Wednesday upheld the state primary election law. The decision prevents the Democrats from placing their candidates nominated in the Democratic state convention, on the state ticket as Democrats. The Democrats will go into the campaign with candidates for governor and congress only, they having neglected to select nominees for the other state offices at the state primaries.

Veteran of Two Wars Dies.

St. Louis, Sept. 3.—A special to the Republic from Alpine, Tex., tells of the death there of Col. George M. Prazor, 80 years old, who went to San Antonio, Tex., from Tennessee in 1834. He served in the Mexican war and was intimately acquainted with Gen. Sam Houston and David Crockett. In 1849 he opened the first stage line between El Paso and San Antonio. In 1862 he formed a company for the confederate army.

Vessel Wrecked on West Coast.

San Francisco, Sept. 3.—A report received in this city says that a vessel, as yet unidentified, is wrecked off Point Arena, a hundred miles north of here. The life-saving crew is reported to have gone to the rescue. The weather is thick and foggy.

"TADPOLE" DITCH "DYNAMITED."

Flood Follows Destruction of Illinois and Michigan Canal Bank.

Joliet, Ill., Sept. 3.—Unknown persons Wednesday dynamited the Illinois bank of the Illinois and Michigan canal at Channahon, 12 miles southwest of Joliet. The break made by the explosion is 100 feet long. The district is flooded and the entire section of the canal from Joliet to Channahon is emptied of water. Boats are stranded, fish by thousands cover the bottom of the canal, navigation is tied up and factories using power furnished by the canal have closed. Several hundred persons are out of employment. The dynamiting is the result of a fight between the canal commissioners and the state on one side and the villages of Channahon and Troy on the other over the bridge question. The state refused to build or repair broken-down bridges.

Young Veterans Draw Color Line.

Boston, Sept. 3.—The drawing of the color line in the organization of the United Spanish war veterans was the most conspicuous feature of the fifth annual convention proceedings Wednesday. This action was brought about through a resolution declaring the Charles M. Thomas camp of Washington "unattached."

DOUBT CANNOT EXIST.

Investigation Will Only Strengthen the Proof We Give in Jansville.

How can doubt exist in the face of such evidence? Read here the endorsement of a representative citizen of Jansville.

Mrs. Thos. Bowles, of 217 South Main St., Jansville, Wis., says: "My husband used Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney troubles and backache and found more relief thereby than from any of the other remedies he used for the trouble. Since using one box, obtained at the People's Drug Co., he has entirely recovered from those attacks of backache and weakness which had bothered him for a number of years. The continuous dull pain used to make him helpless, particularly when getting out of a chair or stooping to pick up anything. Before he used your remedy, it was almost impossible for him to regain an upright position without using some support. He has not been troubled in this way since using Doan's Kidney Pills."

BALLOONIST KILLED

C. O. Jones Plunges 500 Feet to Death at Waterville, Me.

THOUSANDS SEE AWFUL FALL

Airship Bursts Into Flame and the Daring Aeronaut Is Hurlled to the Ground with Burning Wreck of His Machine.

Waterville, Me., Sept. 3.—Twenty-five thousand people here to attend the Central Maine fair saw Charles O. Jones of Hammondport, N. Y., a noted aeronaut, plunge 500 feet to an awful death Wednesday. Mrs. Jones and her child were among the spectators and rushed to the spot where Jones lay. He was still breathing, but in an hour and a half he died.

Jones had been at the fair grounds with his dirigible balloon bomber, known as a Stratos airship, since Monday. Wednesday he arranged to make a flight between three and four o'clock, but such a high wind prevailed that a delay was necessary. At 4:30 conditions had modified and he gave the word to have the machine released.

When the aeronaut reached a height of more than 500 feet the spectators were amazed to see small tongues of flame issuing from under the gas bag in front of the motor. At this time the balloon had passed out of the fair grounds.

Flames Envelop Gas Bag.

Many persons in the great crowd endeavored to apprise Jones of his danger, but several minutes elapsed before he noticed the fire. Then he grasped the rip cord and by letting out gas, endeavored to reach the earth. The machine had descended but a short distance when a sudden burst of flame enveloped the gas bag, the framework immediately separating from the bag. Jones fell with the frame of his motor and when the spectators reached him he was lying under it. The gas bag was completely destroyed.

The physicians who were in the crowd found that Jones had no chance to survive, as he was injured internally and his spine was broken.

Had Often Courted Death.

New York, Sept. 3.—News of the death at Waterville, Me., of Charles O. Jones, the aeronaut, resulting from injuries received by a 500-foot fall from his dirigible balloon, greatly shocked his friends in this city, but did not surprise them, for Jones has literally courted death while giving exhibitions at amusement parks in the vicinity of New York. No more daring sky pilot ever made ascensions in this territory, and for a while scarcely a week went by in which he was not the victim of some half-raising accident, due in great part to his utter fearlessness.

Bryan Talks at Sioux City.

Sioux City, Ia., Sept. 3.—Addressing a monster Democratic rally here Wednesday night, William J. Bryan in the course of a speech on the tariff, guarantee of bank deposits, the labor and trust questions, and governmental reforms, denounced Coleman DuPont of Delaware and Senator Nola Penrose of Pennsylvania, members of the Republican executive committee, as not being expected to become reformers because, as he charged, their affiliation was with the trusts. Special attention was given to the reform and trust questions.

Publisher Tells Himself.

Lewistown, Pa., Sept. 3.—James S. Stackpole, Republican candidate for director of the poor, and a member of the firm of Stackpole Brothers, publishers of the Lewistown Gazette, left his home Wednesday morning while mentally unbalanced and committed suicide near Milltown, by shooting.

You Are Judge of What Coffee You Like Best

If I were to tell you that Golden Blend was the best coffee in Jansville, and if Golden Blend did not exactly suit your taste you would conclude that I knew very little about coffee. You are the judge of what coffee is best for you, but I will say this for Golden Blend, and you see if I'm not right:

Golden Blend is a blend of the choicest South American coffees and is the result of years of careful study in the handling of coffee. It is not an exceedingly strong coffee, neither is it a real mild coffee, but sort of betwixt and between, designed to meet the taste of 9-10th of all the coffee drinkers. It may be that your taste for coffee runs particularly to mild coffee and that Golden Blend is too strong, or perhaps just the other way; you cannot tell until you have tried it. But if you will try a pound of Golden Blend upon my recommendation and it doesn't suit you exactly, I'll blend specially for you in half-pound lots and give them to you free until I have suited your taste. Then your coffee troubles will be over, for when I once know what you like best, I will have no trouble in getting it for you.

You will find more satisfaction in buying of a coffee specialist than from the ordinary dealer who knows but little about coffee except its price.

Smoke Stack Being Put Up For C. F. Brockhaus' Dye House Tumbles, Cutting Telephone Wires.

This noon the sixty-foot smoke stack which is being put up for C. F. Brockhaus' dye house tumbled over while they were putting it up and was broken into three pieces. The men were working on the job all through the noon hour and the stack was almost in position when Mr. Ambrose, who is doing the work, let go of the rope with which he was holding and as the pipe was not guyed up it fell over, breaking a number of the telephone wires which were strung up near there. The upper two stories of the building in which the dye house is located were condemned and P. W. Ryan, the owner, is having them pulled down. The stack was to be put in in order that the smoke from the boiler in the building might not annoy the people in the neighboring data.

Keep Busy.

There would be fewer empty hearts if there were more occupied minds and busier bodies. Both the body and the mind are restless when they have nothing to do. Keep busy; exercise; stir around. Activity is the law of the universe. Even the world has to take its daily exercise and turn itself about.

Often the Case.

Don't think because a man looks embarrassed when with a young lady that he is trying to get up nerve enough to propose. He may be trying to get nerve enough to get out of proposing.

IMPORTANT MEETING COMING NEXT WEEK

The Good Roads Movement to be Given Strong Impetus at the Big Good Roads Convention at Milwaukee.

Every person interested in good roads in this community should make a strong effort to attend the convention of the State Good Roads Association in Milwaukee on Sept. 8. A number of the best speakers on the subject of roads have been secured, from this and other states, and these men will make their remarks intensely practical. They are all men of much experience with roads and those who attend can not fail to get many helpful suggestions. It will help us get what we ought to get: "A dollar's worth of road for every dollar of tax." One of the best features of the convention will be the opportunities for free discussion which delegates will have. Many delegates have been appointed but we are informed that others who desire to attend will be appointed by sending a request to W. O. Hotchkiss, Madison, Ex-Governor of Iowa, who is president of the Association, will preside at the meetings and address the delegates. Owing to the fact that the convention is held during the week of State Fair the delegates can take advantage of the extra low rates which the railroads have granted for this occasion. The convention will be held in Turner Hall which is on Fourth St., a short distance from Grand Ave. and right near the heart of the city.

HORSE THIEVES IN BELOIT LAST NIGHT

Had Evidently Been There for Some Days Making Selections of Their Prospective Steeds.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Beloit, Sept. 3.—Two ponies were stolen from Aikin & Green's barn during the night, together with a light wagon and harness. A single pony with saddle and bridle was also stolen from Harry A. Adams' barn at the same time. The thieves had evidently been in Beloit for some days looking over the prospects, as the animals stolen were the best in the city. The Aikin & Green team was worth $500 and the Adams pony $150. The latter pony was also a match for one of the others and it is thought it was taken for this purpose.

GRAPES EXHIBITED IN HALL & SAYLES' SHOW WINDOW.

The varieties are Early Ohio, Niagara, More's Early, Britton and Columbia, and are as fine flavored as can be found anywhere in the country.

The grapes are exhibited by Mr. Ellsworth and were grown by B. Spencer, who has lived at 452 Pleasant street, for thirty-five years and has continuously raised grapes for the market during that time. Mr. Spencer makes a business of raising fruit for the market and has made a living from three acres of ground and kept a hired man continuously. The vines will yield about forty pounds to each vine this season and he has sold them thus far for 5c per pound.

The idea in exhibiting these grapes is to show that grapes can be raised in Rock county successfully and profitably.

Those wishing to plant grape vines will do well to communicate with B. Ellsworth, 69 either phone, or address lock box 114, Janesville.

MRS. WILLIAM S. G. WILLIAMS

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 3.—The motive for the shooting in this city of Charles H. Roberts of Baltimore is still an unsolved mystery. Mrs. Williams, wife of the wealthy Baltimorean, herself a noted beauty of the south, in her statements to the police claims it was an attempt at highway robbery pure and simple. The facts as presented by the wife and brother of W. S. G. Williams are to the effect that Charles H. Roberts, a lifetime friend of the family, had business in Atlantic City, where Mrs. Williams is spending the summer. Shortly before 10 o'clock in the evening Mr. Roberts suggested a ride in one of the wheel chairs and they started. When they reached Rhode Island avenue Mrs. Williams suggested they return and Mr. Roberts told the driver to do so. At this point the door was forcibly opened and the occupants were confronted by a masked man with a revolver, who commanded them to hold up their hands and turn over valuables. Mr. Roberts refused to do this and advanced toward the supposed thief, when the latter fired and ran away.

other opposing leader. If that answer came or when his name was presented to the republican convention as a presidential possibility.

The republican bosses of New York seek to prevent Hughes' renomination. Nor are the bosses alone. The governor has made himself obnoxious to a vast number of New Yorkers. His opposition sentiment seems to be crystallizing around James W. Wadsworth, Jr., speaker of the last assembly. The Niagara county republican convention has already endorsed young Wadsworth, after tabling a Hughes resolution by a vote of 44 to 8.

Some idea of the intensity of the feeling against Hughes may be gathered from the fact that at a recent race meeting in this state after the governor had spoken to the crowd from the grandstand the racing men refused to proceed with the races until the governor had left the grounds. This is their answer to Hughes' indifference upon an anti-betting bill. This bill finds reflection in many ways throughout the commonwealth. The great Futurity at Sheepshead bay last Saturday, for example, was the strangest Futurity ever run in the history of the American turf because it was run without a single public wager on a single horse.

Governor Hughes, however, has hosts of staunch friends, who fear the dire results of his possible defeat. Word has gone forth from Sagamore Hill that President Roosevelt will keep his hands off the fight. Chairman Hitchcock of the national committee, however, has indicated a belief that Hughes should be renominated.

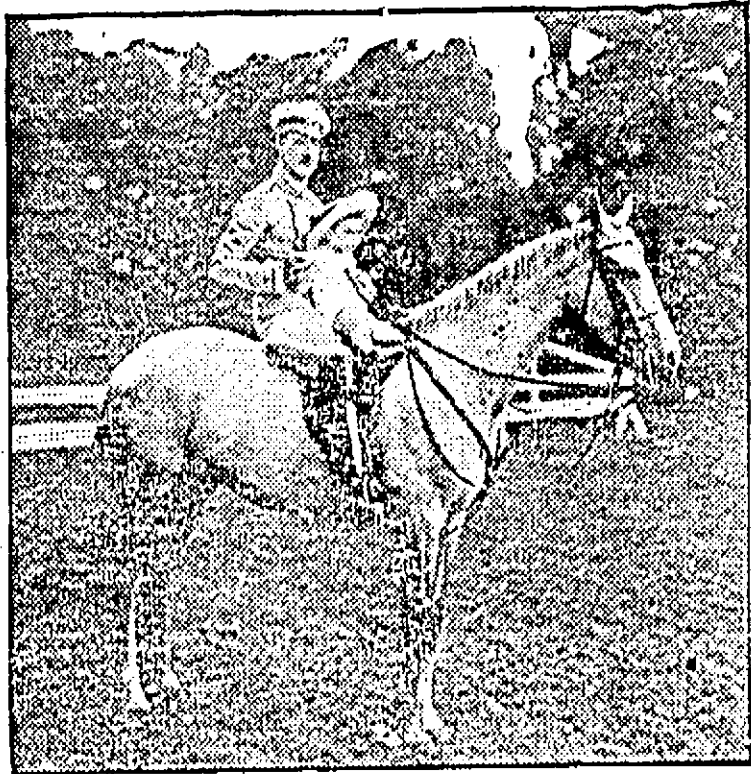

ed and Secretary Straus, New York's member of Roosevelt's cabinet, has declared that Hughes should be returned.

The leaders are opposed to the renomination of the governor and believe they can defeat him," says Mr. Straus. "But if the people are for the governor, the leaders, as the people's servants, must interpret that sentiment in their decisions. Twenty-five years' experience in public life has convinced me that the leader who does not reflect the sentiment of his constituents is unwise."

Last week at Ithaca Governor Hughes was given a veritable ovation. He made a splendid speech and as a result of his day there acquired the support of a leading Ithaca newspaper together with leading political powers of Tompkins county.

A bird's-eye view of the situation would lead to the prophecy that Governor Hughes is to be renominated. His measures, while bitterly opposed in many quarters, are nevertheless popular. His sterling integrity is so strongly apparent that it looks as though it might be political suicide for the republican party to neglect it. If the controlling leaders of the state, however, were to have their way, Mr. Hughes would leave the political map forever.

In view of the effect which the New York gubernatorial nomination must necessarily have on the presidential situation, however, the question of Hughes' nomination or retirement must be carefully weighed before decision is given. The situation is one altogether unique in the political history of New York.

GOVERNOR CHARLES E. HUGHES.

By Hendrick.

New York City, Sept. 3.—Overshadowing the existence of the principal republican and democratic national headquarters in this city is the question of the political vote of Charles Evans Hughes.

The republican party of New York state is between the devil and the deep sea. Whether it renominates Governor Hughes or whether it accepts Jimmy Wadsworth, Jr., or some for this act. Whatever the action it is bound to find reflection in the republican vote at the November polls. Since New York can make or break a presidential nominee, this vote at the November polls is a matter of national importance. For this reason Charles Evans Hughes is today as much an issue before the American people as ever he was when discussing insurance scandals, when ruling fearlessly through his first term at Albany.

It Pays to Use the Want Ads.

Not only does it pay to use want ads., but it pays to write a full description of the thing for sale. Here is a good illustration. The following want ad. was inserted 3 times at the cost of $1.00:

STOP PAYING RENT! Buy the cozy seven-room cottage at No. 65 Chatham St. Modern plumbing, gas fixtures and cooking range; city and soft water in house; sewer connections; cement walk and curb in street; east front; full lot on alley. Price $1,500; $25 down; balance in monthly installments of $30, which payment includes interest at five per cent. Would consider Rockford property in exchange and pay difference if any. Would also take a good driving outfit in deal. Address, D. F. Sullivan, Sullivan Building, Rockford, Ill.

This man might have used a three line ad. and only told one-fourth the story and possibly he would not have made a sale by ten insertions; as it tells the whole story complete, he got the returns immediately. Here is his letter:

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 26th, '08

The Gazette Co.,
Janesville, Wis.

Gentlemen:—Herewith find postage to the amount of $1.00 in settlement of inclosed statement.

The advertisement was the means of selling the property to an Evansville, Wis. party who saw the adv.

Yours Truly,

(Signed) D. F. SULLIVAN.

This is just one of the many occurrences that happen each week where want ads. do the work. Selling real estate is a man's work, yet a want ad. did the trick. There is another good point about this want ad. It has a ring of honesty and sincerity. It tells the price and how it can be paid for, besides giving a good description of the property.
